The Leader in Protective Services

Shouldn't your most secure asset be your security provider?

Security Officers that are better trained, effectively supervised and truly accountable. When our clients are faced with an issue, a single call initiates all resources necessary to investigate and resolve the issue. With nearly 500 branch managers and 90,000 security officers, Securitas is by far the most locally-focused security company in the country.
